An app developer is a person who creates new apps that people can use on their phones and tablets.

Some app developers create games for kids to play! Today, you will create a new game called “Find the Treasure in the United States.” In the game, players will look for a treasure chest in different states in the United States. Follow the steps below to create your new app!

Step 1: Make a Welcome Screen

When people log onto the app, they will see a welcome screen. A welcome screen tells people the name of the game. Use words and pictures to design your welcome screen below. Your welcome screen should have the following:

- Name of the game
- Picture of a treasure chest
- Name of app developer (your name!)

Step 2: Design a Map

When people play the game, they will look at a map of the United States. They will use the map to look for the treasure in different states!

The map will show regions in the United States. A region is a part of the United States. Each region is made up of a group of states.

Follow the directions to color in the states in each region on the map. Put a check mark next to each state after you color it in.
